CHARLES BORN SUCCEUMBS TO PARALYSIS AT NOON FRIDAY

(From Saturday's Daily)

Charles Born, widely and favorably known in mining circles in this territory and Colorado, succumbed yesterday at noon to paralysis, from which he has been a sufferer since the first of April. He was aged 66 years and a native of Frankfurt, Germany. Surviving he leaves four sons and one daughter, Charles Born, Jr., of this city, R. M. Born, Alamoosa, Colorado, A. E. Born, Creede, Colorado, H. S. Born, Silverton, Colorado, and Mrs. B. Bloom, of Denver, Colorado.

He emigrated from his native land to the United States in 1863. New York was his home until 1879, when he moved to Colorado, at once identifying himself with the mining industry of that state. He discovered and located the New York Chance mine, one of the first locations ever made in the Creede district. On the decline of the price of silver in the early 90's he disposed of his Colorado interests and came to Prescott. He located on Lynx creek and engaged in mining there. Subsequently, he moved to the Black Rock district where he discovered and located a promising group of claims to the development of which he devoted his entire energies until stricken with the disease which proved fatal. Since April, he has made his home with his son, Charles Born, Jr., in West Prescott, where he died yesterday.

He was a man of strong personality and generous sympathies, commanding the respect and esteem of the communities in which he lived. His remains were taken in charge by the Maus and Shannon undertaking establishment. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

COUNCIL KEEPS THE LID OFF PRESCOTT

Petition For Sunday Closing Unanimously Disapproved

(From Saturday's Daily)

The saloons of the City of Prescott will not be closed on Sundays, or at midnight on any other day of the week, at least not this year. The sanitary committee of the city council, to whom was referred the petition signed by Dr. Agnes McKee Wallace and about 700 other residents of Prescott, including a number of well known business and professional men, made an adverse report and the council, without a dissenting vote, approved the report.

The committee to whom the report was referred was composed of Councilman Brown, Belcher and Wilson. The committee opposed the petition on the ground that the saloon men who took out licenses on April 1 last, had no restrictions placed on the time saloons were to remain open or closed, and that to grant the prayer of petitioners would work an injustice and hardship on a large number of business men. The report as a whole follows:

"We, the Sanitary Committee to whom was referred a petition in regard to the closing of all places where liquor is sold, at 12 o'clock nights and during Sunday, respectfully report as follows:

"When the liquor dealers were required to take out county license the first of April for the ensuing year, there were no restrictions as to the length of time saloons were to keep open. The understanding being that they could do as they always have been doing if they chose—keep open day and night and Sundays.

"By closing at twelve o'clock on all week-day nights and from 12 p. m. on Saturday to 7 a. m. on the following Monday, they would remain closed two and three-fourths days per week, an equivalent to 143 days per year, or over one-third for which they paid license to do business. This being the case we consider that the liquor dealers should receive some kind of notice before such action is taken, and should any such ordinances ever be passed they should be passed to take effect at the beginning of the county license year, which begins April 1st.

"As regards Sunday closing: We consider that if the petition was signed with the idea of making the town morally better by observing the Sabbath day, the closing should apply to all kinds of businesses and not saloons alone, as that would be class legislation.

"This city is supported wholly by outside population and many find it more convenient to come to town on Sunday than other days and do certain kinds of business. To such people we should try to cater and not work on them an inconvenience.

"We are of the opinion that the town is not ready for such laws at present, and also believe that before the council takes any action on so important a matter as this petition, it should first be submitted to a vote of the people of Prescott. With these reasons, we respectfully recommend that no action be taken upon the petition."

The dry element in Prescott make no secret of their intentions to make a fight on the issue of higher license and other restrictions at the city election in January next. Until then, at least, the liquor question in Prescott will remain status quo.

MINE PROMOTER GETS 7 YEARS FOR FRAUD

(From Saturday's Daily)
